

Jennifer Higginbotham, AICP
Urban Planner

Selected Relevant Experience

- Porter County Corridor Plans, Porter County, IN
- Fort Wayne Downtown Design Guidelines, Fort Wayne, IN
- Hendricks County Comprehensive Plan, Hendricks County, IN
- Evansville / Vanderburgh County I-69 Corridor Plan, Evansville, IN
- Lebanon Comprehensive Plan, Lebanon, IN
- Shelby County Comprehensive Plan, Shelby County, IN
- Central Sector Small Area Plan, Lexington, KY

Project Leadership

Jennifer brings a fresh perspective and creative force to RATIO's planning team. Committed to creating places that foster community pride, she is adept at gathering public input and using the information to create inventive, easy-to-implement plans. In addition, her skills in geographic information system (GIS) mapping offer unique presentation solutions for public workshops within clients' communities.

Prior to joining RATIO in 2005, Jennifer had experience with the City Planning Department of Anderson, IN. Additional work also includes neighborhood analysis and land use planning.

Education & Registration

- Ball State University / Bachelor of Urban Planning & Development
- Certified Planner

Community Leadership & Professional Affiliations

- Member, American Institute of Certified Planners
- Member, American Planning Association Indiana Chapter (APA-IN)

RATIO